For project-related activities to be carried out at locations other than those mentioned under Project Location herein, Customer will arrange for and bear all expenses, direct and indirect, towards all cost items including transportation, lodging and boarding of the Consultant, wherever applicable.

At their discretion, the Consultant may make any or all of the necessary arrangements relating to the above-mentioned deputation. In such cases, the Customer will promptly arrange to reimburse the Consultant for the expenses incurred on actuals.

Project Execution Infrastructure

The customer will provide necessary and adequate hardware infrastructure and data connectivity for services to be consumed by the Consultant to fulfill his commitment for the assignment and will be arranged for and provided at no cost to the Consultant.

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)

All intellectual property owned by Consultant shall remain the sole and exclusive property of Consultant and all intellectual property owned by Customer and its affiliates shall remain the sole and exclusive property of Customer.

Confidentiality

All information which has or will come into possession or knowledge of each party about the other party's business including without limitation customers, business plans, business operations, processes, working methods, standards and technical information during the course of this Agreement which is designated as Confidential shall be treated by the other party as being confidential to the other party. Each party shall protect such information from unauthorized use, disclosure or reproduction in a manner consistent with the measures the other uses to protect its own confidential information. Disclosure of such information to third parties will only be with the prior written consent of the other party. Each party agrees that such information will only be made available to those employees of such party whose function requires it in connection with the provision of services under this Agreement and agrees to take all requisite steps to ensure that such employees observe the obligations of confidentiality set out herein.

The obligations of confidentiality imposed by this section shall survive the variation, termination or expiry of this Agreement but shall not apply to information or data which:
at the time it is received is part of the public domain subsequently becomes part of the public domain through no fault of the recipient is lawfully received by the recipient from a third party or which is already known to the recipient prior to disclosure

Relation between the Parties

The relationship between Consultant and Customer is solely that of an independent contractor and no employer-employee, principal-agent, partnership, or joint venture relationship is deemed to have been created between the Parties.

Security

Consultant shall ensure that he shall comply with all rules, regulations, and bylaws, orders and any directions issued by Customer in force in relation to any premises at which the Services are to be provided.

Liability

In no event shall the Consultant or Customer be liable, one to the other, for special, indirect, consequential or any other damages in connection with or arising out of the furnishing, performance or use of the services provided by Consultant under the terms of this proposal. The liability of either party shall be limited to instances where the damage or loss to a party was caused by the negligence or wilful acts or omissions of the other.

Indemnity

The Parties shall indemnify and hold harmless one another from and against all Claims that may be initiated whether based on tort or contract that may be incurred or sustained as a consequence of a Party's:

- a. willful misconduct, negligence, fraud, misrepresentation, or breach of its obligations under the Agreement;
- b. breach of any of its representations and warranties under this Agreement; or
- c. violation or non-compliance with any Applicable Laws.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement, the maximum liability of either party shall be the lesser amount of the following two: (a) the actual loss or damage incurred by the Company or the third party; or (b) the 200% of the total Fee paid under this Agreement.

Additional Support and Services

In case the Customer either requires additional assistance for the execution of its tasks in respect of the assignment, the Consultant may undertake to provide such assistance or support under a separate arrangement. Such arrangement will be independent of this proposal and will be covered through a separate proposal.

Force Majeure

If the performance as specified in this proposal is prevented, restricted, delayed or interfered by reason of:

fire, explosion, cyclone, floods

war, revolution, acts of public enemies, blockage or embargo any law, order, proclamation, ordinance, demand or requirements of any government or authority or representative of any such government, including restrictive trade practices or regulations strikes, shutdowns or labor disputes which are not instigated for the purpose of avoiding obligations herein or any other circumstances beyond the control of the party affected, then notwithstanding anything here before contained, the party affected shall be excused from its performance to the extent such performance relates to prevention, restriction, delay or interference, and provided the party so affected, uses its best efforts to remove such causes of non-performance, and when removed the party shall continue performance with the utmost dispatch. The party affected shall notify the other by written notice within seven (7) working days from the occurrence of force majeure event and if the force majeure continues for longer than 30 days from the of such notification, the party not so affected shall be entitled to terminate the agreement, without penalty after giving seven (7) working days' prior notice to the other.

Termination

Consultant and Customer will have the right to terminate the agreement resulting from this proposal by giving a fifteen-days notice to the other upon situations arising due to non-compliance with the stipulations of this proposal.

If Customer issues the termination notice, then it will pay the Consultant all amounts due as of the termination date stated in the notice as well as the payment that would have become due upon completion of the month encompassing the termination date.

Payment Delays

For the period beyond the due date of any invoice, Customer will be liable to the Consultant for an interest of 2 percent per month on the invoice amount. Fractions of a month will be treated as a full month for purposes of interest calculation. Consultant may, at its discretion, decide to discontinue the services either temporarily or permanently in case of non-payment of dues.

Arbitration

In the event of a dispute or difference of any nature whatsoever between Consultant and Customer during the course of the assignment arising as a result of this proposal, the same will be referred for arbitration to a Board of Arbitration. This Board will be constituted prior to the commencement of the arbitration and will comprise two arbitrators and an umpire. Consultant and Customer will each nominate an arbitrator to the Board and these arbitrators will appoint the umpire.

Survival

The obligations of the Parties in clause 'Confidentiality', 'Relationship between the parties', 'Termination', 'Non-employment' and 'Force Majeure' shall to the extent provided, remain in effect after any termination of this proposal.

Waiver, Amendment and Modification

Failure of either Party at any time to require performance of any provisions of this Proposal shall not affect the right to require full performance of the Proposal terms at any time thereafter, and the waiver by any Party of a breach of such provision shall not be taken or held to be a waiver of any subsequent breach or nullification of the effectiveness of such provision. Except as otherwise provided in this proposal, any waiver, amendment or other modification of this proposal will not be effective unless it is in writing and signed by both the parties.
